Referrals for monoclonal antibody treatment for COVID-19 in Contra Costa County

Different care networks have set up systems for routing patients to a center that can deliver these drugs.

One local option for patients and community healthcare providers seeking monoclonal antibody treatment is the Infectious Disease Doctors Medical Group (IDDMG), which consults at Contra Costa Regional Medical Center and John Muir Health, and is known to San Ramon Valley and Sutter Delta medical centers.

CCHS guarantees payment for treatment at IDDMG's Walnut Creek infusion center for Contra Costa Health Plan (CCHP) members, Medi-Cal patients who are not CCHP members, and uninsured Contra Costa residents without prior authorization.

IDDMG also sees patients who are covered by Medicare and private health insurance.

Patients and providers can contact IDDMG by calling 925-932-7124 or email Jean Choy at jean@iddoctors.com. No referral is necessary.
